SEE WHAT LOS ANGELES OFFERS
US IN WAY OF INCREASED
INTEREST CHARGES

What Glendale would be up against if it annexed to Los Angeles to get a share of the Owens River water (which it does not need and would hate to use for any but irrigation purposes), is indicated in the article below from the Burbank Review. As Glendale is between four and five miles further from the San Fernando Reservoir than Burbank the cost to her would be much in excess of the prices quoted to Burbank. It would take at least $600,000 to build the pipe line, at a pro rata cost, and Glendale's share of the $58,500,000 bonded indebtedness of the City of Los Angeles would bear an interest charge of $54,000 a year, at least. This, with the interest on the $600,000 bond issue, would make an interest charge annually, till the first of the bonds were retired, of $30,000. So we would be paying $84,000 a year interest for something we do not need, and get back not one cent as earnings; and besides we would have to pay for the water at a rate of not less than 1 cent a miners' inch per hour and probably more. Think of an additional interest charge of nearly $7 per capita for every man, woman and child in Glendale, with no compensating advantages and many drawbacks. Study these figures carefully in the light of the official statement below made to the Burbank City Council:

At a fairly well attended meeting Monday night, at which time the

OUTDOOR RECEPTION

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH ENTER-TAINS NEW MEMBERS AT OPEN AIR FUNCTION

The Presbyterians of Glendale deserve the thanks of the community for demonstrating as they did Thursday night how charmingly the High School campus and buildings lend themselves to exigencies of a social function. It was an outdoor reception for twenty-two new members, a friendly family affair staged in front of the main building which furnished a noble background the steps serving as the rostrum for speakers and the paved walk for the stage and auditorium illuminated by Japanese lanterns festooned in radiating lines from flag pole to entrance and electrically lighted through the courtesy and skill of Messrs. Newton and Lawrence who were members of the reception committee. Mrs. Mulford was general chairman and the Intermediate Girls furnished part of the program and assisted in the distribution of the ice-cream and cake served at the close of the evening.

In the beginning the two hundred or more guests could be persuaded to do nothing except visit with each other and enjoy the coolness of the evening. Children tumbled on the grass, boys climbed the supporting pillars and everything else that offered a perch, the little girls gathered in pairs and groups and told secrets and then, about nine o'clock, the brief program was given, J. A. Newton announcing the numbers. It opened and closed with vocal numbers by the Intermediate Girls who sang very sweetly "Dwelling in Beulah Land" and "With Him." A vocal solo by Clifford Riggs "In Killarney Across the Sea" was the next number, warmly encored, Mrs. Riggs serving as piano accompanist for her husband and also for the male quartette, composed of Messrs. Clark, Isitt, Lemon and Riggs, who gave "Little Orphan Annie" and as an encore "Earnestly, Tenderly, Jesus Is Calling." Their voices blended beautifully and the audience was reluctant to have them stop.

A reading by Mrs. Jones, who always charms her audiences, gave the history of Hezekiah's trying performances and immensely entertained her auditors as did also her child impersonation in the encore with which she graciously responded to a recall.

Mr. Finley closed this part of the evening's entertainment with an informal, unaffected little speech of welcome to the new members in which he declared that speeches are like wheels, the longer they are the greater the tire. He also explained why English is called the mother tongue, saying it is because father so seldom gets a chance to use it. He gave the special guests the most cordial kind of an invitation to identify themselves with the church, confiding to them the fact that he was comparatively new himself and had found it a decidedly friendly church, where he knew they would very soon feel entirely at home.

A COOL MILLION

THIS GREAT SUM REPRESENTS
VALUE OF FILM STUDIO COM-ING TO GLENDALE

The Astra Film Studio on North Verdugo Road has been taken over by Lewis G. Gasner, a well-known producer, who will enlarge it greatly to accommodate five producing units. Some of the most noted stars in the profession will put on scenes here. Lew Cody, the "he-vamp," is already on the ground producing films. In one scene filmed recently 150 extra people were used. Four immense stages will be erected, a large mill, laboratory, wardrobe rooms, scene docks and a mammoth restaurant will be constructed, to cover many acres of ground. In fact, a small city will arise as if by magic, peopled by those who nightly delight thousands in the picture shows. Hundreds of extras will be used in many of the scenes. It is confidently expected that this great studio will rival any of those in Hollywood or other parts of Los Angeles. Lew Cody's director is W. Cristy Cabanna and his publicity man, Herman Schlager. This new studio will be the means of adding considerably to Glendale's population and put many thousands of dollars in circulation among our business men.

DR. YOUNG'S HOME SOLD

Dr. T. C. Young's home at 412 N. Kenwood has been sold by the H. L. Miller Co. to J. Johnson of Kings Co., who has for years conducted a large grape ranch in the San Joaquin Valley. He is a man of considerable means and his family consists of wife, son and daughter. Dr. Young will enjoy a month's outing in which he will worry the many tribe most persistently, and when he returns will commence the erection of a beautiful home on the lot just south of the place he sold to Mr. Johnson.

IN FAR CONSTANTINOPLE

Lewis McGee, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. M. McGee, of 128 South Isabel street, who during most of the war period was a wireless operator on the U. S. destroyer Decatur, but who was transferred to the Scorpion, now in Turkish waters, was called upon to help erect a wireless station at the U. S. Embassy in Constantinople. He and three of his comrades have been in charge of the station since January, and they are very anxious to know to which power Constantinople is to be turned over.

COLORADO PICNIC

The annual picnic of the Colorado Society will be held in Sycamore Grove, Saturday, August 2d. There will be county registers and it will be an all-day affair with coffee served free to all who purchase badges. The brief program will open about 2 o'clock.

BACK FROM TAHOE

MRS. LORENA CRAMER AND SONS
RETURN FROM BEAUTIFUL
NORTHERN LAKE

Mrs. Lorena Cramer of Acacia avenue has returned with her two sons, Horace and Earl Cramer, from a delightful auto trip and outing at Lake Tahoe, where they spent four days and where Miss Gladys Hamilton who is teaching in Newcastle was their guest. They returned by way of San Francisco and the coast route. Earl, who is employed in the oil fields near Bakersfield, returned with his mother and will complete his fortnight's vacation here renewing acquaintance with old friends. He goes back to Bakersfield next Monday. Mrs. Cramer's son-in-law, Mr. Bittle, who is visiting her with his wife and family, has just developed a mild case of typhoid fever which has knocked in the head a plan for a family camping trip to Big Bear. He is not very sick and the doctor promises speedy recovery under the good nursing he will receive from his wife and mother-in-law.

Mrs. Cramer is very much delighted with Lake Tahoe and declares she would gladly spend a month there. She brought back many kodak pictures to show her friends what the scenery is like.

Mrs. Cramer has had no very recent letters from her son, Wallace, who, when he last wrote was very comfortably situated with the Army of Occupation in a suburb of Coblenz. As the War Department has announced the return of the First Division, of which he is now a part, she is hoping to be surprised by having him walk in upon her before long.

ANGLO-AMERICAN-FRENCH TREATY

PRESIDENT WILSON PLANS TO PRESENT IT TO SENATE
FOLLOWING HIS SPEAKING TOUR

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, July 25.—It was learned today at the White House that the president plans to present to the Senate the Anglo-American-French defensive agreement following his nation-wide speaking tour. He is preparing an address to accompany the presentation of the treaty. Meanwhile the Senate's demand for its immediate presentation as proposed in Lodge's resolution yesterday, threatens to precipitate a spirited fight.

Visitors to the White House reported that the president would probably not be back in Washington from his speaking tour until six weeks had elapsed. He expects to reach San Francisco August 15. This announcement from the White House is considered as an answer to Senator Lodge's resolution and is taken as an indication that the president is planning to use sterner methods in the league of nations fight. He has declared that the Senate must not jeopardize the treaty by sending it back to Paris as that would reopen all the international controversies including the Japanese racial equality and Italian questions. Significance is attached to the president's interview this morning with Senator Spencer who is thoroughly acquainted with Taft's proposals for the modification of the league covenant.

A NATIONAL MARKETING COMMISSION

TARIFF COMMISSIONER WILLIAM KENT OF CALIFORNIA
ANNOUNCES FORMATION OF SUCH ORGANIZATION

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, July 25.—William Kent, former California Congressman and now a member of the Tariff Commission has announced the formation of a national marketing commission the initial purpose of which will be securing the enactment of the Kenyon bill regulating the meat packers. Other purposes of the commission will be promoting marketing organizations, warehouse systems and similar work to eliminate the waste in distribution.

The Senate has directed the Federal Trade Commission to immediately investigate the packers' methods of buying cattle and hogs.

DEED RESTRICTIONS DECLARED INVALID

JUDGE RULES THAT CLAUSES IN DEEDS FORBIDDING RE-
SALE TO MONGOLIANS AND NEGROES ARE INVALID

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

LOS ANGELES, July 25.—Appellate Judge Finlayson today ruled that all clauses in deeds to California land providing that the property must not be resold to Chinese, Japanese or negroes, are invalid. He made the ruling in deciding the case of the Title Guarantee and Trust Company against H. L. Garrott, negro, who purchased land under such a deed. Attorneys say the effect is far-reaching but that it will not interfere with the anti-alien land law.

PRECAUTIONS AGAINST INFLUENZA

CONGRESSMAN FESS URGES APPROPRIATION OF $750,000
TO FIGHT THE SCOURGE

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, July 25.—Congressman Fess of Ohio today urged the House to pass the $750,000 appropriation to fight influenza. He declared that the last epidemic cost half a million lives and that physicians agree there will be a recurrence of the disease with even more serious after effects. He contended that it is essential that pathological researchers should find the influenza germ before an anti-toxin can be worked out.

AERIAL MAIL CARRIERS STRIKE

REFUSAL OF POSTOFFICE DEPARTMENT TO REINSTATE
TWO DISCHARGED PILOTS SAID TO BE CAUSE

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

NEW YORK, July 25.—The first aviators' strike in the history of the world started this morning when twenty aerial pilots failed to report at Belmont Park because the Postoffice department had refused to reinstate two of their number who had been discharged. The aviation field was closed and officials refused to give out any information. The strikers are confident that other mail flyers will join them.

WASHINGTON, July 25.—The aerial mail left for New York half an hour late today. At the Postoffice it was said that the strike of air men will tie up the aerial mail-service until new flyers can be employed.

TO ENCOURAGE FOREIGN BANKING CORPORATIONS

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, July 25.—The Senate Banking committee today favorably reported a bill authorizing the establishment of foreign banking corporations under the federal reserve board, to facilitate foreign trade.

SCHOOL BONDS CARRY

VOTE MORE THAN FIVE TO ONE
IN FAVOR OF $100,000
ISSUE

The Board of Trustees for City Schools, Glendale teachers, members of the Parent-Teacher organizations and all persons interested in the welfare of local schools are feeling happy this morning over the result of the election yesterday to vote upon a bond issue of $100,000 to meet school needs.

The vote was as follows:

Wilson Ave. (Intermediate) Precinct...Yes 256, No 56
Central Ave. Precinct...Yes 62, No 4
Acacia Ave. Precinct...Yes 71, No 17

Yes 389 No 77

Total vote—466.
Much of the credit for this happy result is due to the earnest work of the Advisory Committee and to officers and members of the Parent-Teacher Associations who conducted a good, clean, educational campaign to make the people acquainted with the issues and informed as to what the money will be spent for. On the last day before the vote was cast a canvass of the business district was made and statements showing just what the bond issue would cover were left at each store and office. This work was also effective and brought to the polls a large number of the substantial business men of the city.

The Board will, of course, be unable to enter into contracts with architects and builders until the bonds are sold but they will probably begin negotiations at once. Their first step will be to meet next Thursday evening to canvass the vote and certify it to the Board of Supervisors. The placing of the bonds on the market will be up to those county officials. While pressure of other business may delay their action for a few days, it should not require more than sixty days for them to pass on the proceedings, advertise the bonds and market them. After they are sold the Board of Trustees of the City Schools will need two weeks in which to advertise for bids, but in the meantime they can be considering plans and specifications and be ready to go ahead as soon as the legal formalities have cleared the way and the funds are available.

MATTHEW JAMGOCHIAN HERE

Matthew Jamgochian, son of A. M. Jamgochian, who has been in service with a medical corps in France, got home about two weeks ago and has been the center of interest in his family ever since. He brought back some interesting souvenirs and some thrilling stories but does not care to talk much about his experiences. Like the majority of his comrades he would rather forget war. Reunions have been held in his honor and the entire family is planning a month's outing together at Ocean Park where quarters were engaged some time ago. On his return to Glendale he will take up his former work at the California Soap Company's factory in Los Angeles, of which his father is the president. He was in France about eight months of which two were on the fighting front, although he did not get into action as his duties concerned the care of the sick; but it was a taste of war nevertheless as he worked under shell fire. An epidemic of influenza kept the men of his corps even busier than did the shells of the enemy. He is very glad to be in Glendale once more and seems to have no desire to supplement his experience with a course in a medical college.

HOPE TO LOCATE IN GLENDALE

H. W. Evans and wife arrived last Saturday night from Owyhee, Nevada, where Mr. Evans had been working for Uncle Sam for some years. His wife is a daughter of Mr. Lawshe. The young people are looking for a 5-acre place to buy, where they can raise fruit and chickens, and hope to find something to suit them in Glendale or its suburbs. We sincerely hope they may be successful.

OUTING AT CAMP BALDY

Mr. and Mrs. Percy Priaux and daughters of 128 West Park avenue have returned from a week's outing at Camp Baldy in San Antonio Canyon where they had a very nice time in spite of the fact that the camp was almost too crowded for comfort. They experienced a shower while there, the weather was fine, and they enjoyed the trip to and from the camp. Mr. Priaux leaves next week for a business trip up the coast.

TRUSTEES' MEETING

PETITIONERS FOR OPENING OF MARYLAND AVENUE WITH-DRAW REQUEST

The Board assembled at 8:30 p. m. July 24, 1919. All members were present. The minutes of the regular meeting of July 17, 1919, were read and a correction ordered to be made on page 281, showing that the committee that appeared before the Board represented the business men of the city.

Sycamore Canyon Water Company Supply

A committee of citizens supplied by the Sycamore Canyon Water Company with water appeared before the Board, and Mr. Sanford, speaking for the committee, presented a request that the Public Service Department of the city relieve the Sycamore Canyon Water Company of the necessity of supplying certain establishments and residents within the city limits with water; the supply available for that company being inadequate to meet all the requirements of the water users on the system. After some discussion a motion of Trustee Woodberry was adopted to the effect that the Sycamore Canyon Water Company be permitted to connect its system with the tank located on the northeast corner of lot 84, Watts sub., by a pipe to be installed at the expense of the company; the city agreeing to furnish an amount of water to be pumped into the company's reservoir at night, not to exceed fifteen thousand (15,000) gallons daily, at a price of five cents (5c) per hundred cubic feet; the arrangement to be temporary.

Application of Monarch Company

An application was presented by the Monarch Company for a permit to install a gasoline tank at the southeast corner of Brand boulevard and Harvard street. The same was granted on motion of Trustee Henry.

Communication from F. H. Lowe

A communication was read from Judge F. H. Lowe, City Recorder, proposing that he be granted a vacation during the month of August, being absent every alternate day, arranging his court accordingly. On motion, the request was granted.

Approval of Map of Tract No. 3435

Situated in Glendale

FIREMEN ALMOST WELL

Proof of the convalescence of Captain Ed Fairfield of the Glendale Fire Department from the injuries he received in the auto accident at Los Feliz Road and Central avenue was afforded by his appearance on the streets recently and his visit to Station No. 2 on Brand boulevard. He will soon be ready for duty. Chief Lankford has been at work the past week and has been released to finish his vacation; Captain Wagon, who has left the city to make sure of completing his outing, is expected back the first of August. Fireman Purrier is also doing well and has been promised by his doctor that the cast can be removed from his leg the last of this week or the first of next.

WAR ROMANCE

MARY ERSKINE, ARMY NURSE, RETURNS THE WIFE OF
SURGEON MACLEAN

Dr. and Mrs. MacLean of Kelly Aviation Field, who have been guests of Mr. and Mrs. Don Erskine and family of South Maryland avenue, have returned to Texas. Mrs. MacLean will be remembered as Miss Mary Erskine who entered army service as a nurse. A few months ago she married the surgeon in charge of the hospital with which she was connected. This is the first opportunity the members of her family have had to meet her husband or see her since the happy event. Dr. MacLean now handles the big X-ray department of the hospital. He hopes to secure his discharge in the near future and when he does is considering establishing a hospital of his own somewhere in Texas. He and his wife were in charge during the influenza epidemic and made such a record that the commanding general commended them and advised them to stay together because of their excellent team work. They evidently followed his advice literally and it has every indication of being an excellent marriage for both parties. Members of the Erskine family are favorably impressed with their new relative and satisfied that Mrs. MacLean showed good judgment when she chose a partner for life.

DOLLARS AND DOLLARETTES

It is being borne in on the public more and more that what is going on in the economic world is a readjustment of the whole price structure.

The dollar evidently isn't worth what it was, say, five years ago.

By the process known to the financial sharps as "inflation of credit" from enormous war loans, the American dollar, the British pound sterling, and the French franc have been watered. We have to use more counters now than we used to in making our financial transactions.

It is in many ways a painful and confusing process and difficult to comprehend. We really ought to give up calling it a dollar and call it, say, a dollarette. Then we would understand that we were talking about something worth, perhaps, 60 cents instead of 100, and the prices of what we have to buy wouldn't seem so large. —Kansas City Star.

JUNIUS OBJECTS

GLENDAL 18 NOT RIPE NOR SHOULD IT BE COMPARED TO A CAMEL

To the Editor of the Evening News:
There's an awfully funny editorial in one of the leading Los Angeles papers this morning on the water situation in Glendale. I know it's funny because it is written by the paper's high-priced professional humorist, or some one else who does just as well. Of course, there's no connection, but I am reminded of that editor of a high-class newspaper who returned a highly colored story of a sea serpent to its author with thanks, on the grounds that the paper kept a liar of its own. The article I allude to finally arrives at a point on its extreme southerly extremity when it alleges, "Glendale is ripe for annexation." American humor consists very largely in exaggeration and therefore in a humorous article that is what we look for. There's lots of this style of humor in the funny editorial I am speaking of, and the quotation I have made from it is the acme, or climax, or culmination, or whatever you call it when the thing comes to a head—which in this case is found at the tail end.

I don't like the intimation, or assertion or whatever it is, that "Annexation is ripe in Glendale." We annexationists object to that phrase; annexation isn't ripe, it's only incubating. When it gets ripe you will know it, that is, if you live in or are passing through our neighborhood. It is ripening nicely, begins to look a little bloated around the edges and occasionally breaks out in spots, but it's not yet ripe, although the Health Officer is getting busy and occasionally a citizen may be observed sniffing superciliously at the atmosphere in certain localities. Bless you, no, it isn't ripe, it's merely going on the blink, as it were.

As an annexationist I object to treating a serious matter with levity. I admit that Glendale is strictly, even chemically moral, but it is not in good taste always for us to boast of it. We would not know a brewery wagon from a water wagon in the dark, but when we annex to Los Angeles we shall accumulate knowledge in a degree hitherto unknown in this pure atmosphere, and one of the principal arguments in favor of the union of the two cities is about as follows: It is hard for us to live up to our reputation for chemical purity, and as a consequence the rank outsider is likely to assume that we are frauds. Now this criticism cannot possibly apply to the city of Los Angeles, for everybody knows that there are occasional outbursts of naughtiness there. We figure therefore that when we get thoroughly mixed up by annexation, we shall never be accused of having an impossible standard of morality. We shall simply be just ordinary citizens of a big overgrown town, every individual nurturing within himself the possibilities of being real bad—which is as it ought to be.

In the article alluded to herein I find objections also to comparing Glendale with a camel. This animal, as I understand, loves a dry country and is in the habit of intruding his uncouth personality up above the sky line anywhere on the landscape. We don't want camels in Glendale or even in Southern California; they are not pleasant to look at and get their backs up on the slightest provocation, and if this thing of advertising our dryness goes on, there will be an influx of camels into this section that will depreciate the value of real estate more than the fact that Los Angeles has an insatiable habit of biting off more than she can chew. Now, Mister Editor, please publish this article just to show that while opposing annexation you are yet liberal enough to show up both sides of the question.

JULY 24th.
JUNIUS JUNIOR.
COLLEGE BOY WANTS CHANCE
AT DEMPSEY

By H. C. HAMILTON
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
NEW YORK, July 24.—Drake university, Des Moines, Iowa, is about to set a new record in pugilism.

You can count back as far as you like, but you will be unable to find in the history of fisticuffs any mauler who ever attained any greatness who got his schooling within the walls of a university. Now, Drake students are out to batter that record into small pieces through the presentation to the world of Carl Broadley.

Broadley is a delicate youth of six feet, four inches, and 246 pounds. His home is in Texas, where they make 'em decidedly rough, and he wants to fight for a living—rather a high-flung ambition for a mere collegian, since box-fighters have begun to make millions in the game.

Off-seasons, young Broadley slays and rounds up steers, whips the countryside, and trains for football.

Coach Mark Banks, old-time football star, believes the youth he is training daily in the Drake gymnasium can take the measure of Jack Dempsey. He declares that in spite of his size Banks is faster than any heavyweight the world has ever seen, and in this class he places the new champion, in spite of the things Jack has been doing to championship aspirants for many a day.

Banks probably hasn't given much thought to how hard the big boys fall when they stop wallows with their chins from fists carrying the weight of a Dempsey, but he can be excused for that if he really thinks he has unearthed a champion, for champions are practically as good as a young mint nowadays.

"Broadley isn't championship material right now," Banks said in Des Moines, "but proper handling within the next year will bring him around. I believe a session on the gridiron this fall will harden him a bit and make him a greater boxing possibility."

"The big fellow is just crazy to fight, and you can bet he's going to exhibit around here this winter."

LA CRESCENTA

Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Thomas are spending a brief vacation at Colorado Springs.

There will be a dance next Saturday night at the schoolhouse. Admission 25 cents. These bi-weekly dances are giving our Vaney a splendid evening's pleasure for a very nominal figure and are well patronized.

You are still buying Thrift Stamps. They are the real savers. One a week will make a big showing in the course of very little time and once you get the habit you will be surprised how easy it is to buy more than one.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred H. Anderson have gone to Forest Home for their vacation.

H. Biescar, on North Los Angeles avenue, is building a fine, large home. The barn and garage are nearly completed and the work on the house will begin next week.

Mrs. M. Cloud has returned from Sunland to her own home on Crescent.

F. A. Hanger can still accommodate a few more guests, but he says that they always keep coming back. Some advertisement for the Valley and for his entertainment.

Mr. White's music pupils are increasing so that he now makes two trips per week to Sunland and Tujunga.

The Glendale & Montrose R. R. are making big headway in clearing the acreage for the Park, just south of the car line at Rosemont. Tennis courts are under way, out-door ovens, seats and tables and if the water can be obtained perhaps a swimming pool. We are very enthusiastic over the last.

members of the Burbank Business Men's Association were the guests of the Burbank Board of Trustees, the matter of an adequate water supply for the city was thoroughly discussed, and the three plans compared in an effort to get at the correct solution of a problem that is now ripe for definite action.

Mayor Blanchard called the meeting to order and, after stating its purpose, called on C. H. Kline, chairman of the water committee, to lay before the meeting the results of his investigations.

Mr. Kline stated that as soon as the City Trustees found that the present plan of the city would need enlarging they began investigations for a solution. Three plans were taken up: Annexation to Los Angeles; buying the plant of Mr. Brand near San Fernando, which would do away with pumping and provide an inexhaustible supply of gravity water; and developing water in the valley by sinking new wells and increasing the pumping capacity.

Mr. Kline stated that he and Mr. Webster went to Los Angeles to find what would be required of Burbank in order to come under the Owens River water system. They were referred to Howard Robertson of the L. A. public service commission, who gave them the information that Burbank would have to assume a proportionate share of the $26,000,000 Aqueduct Bonds, $22,500,000 Power Bonds and the $10,000,000 Harbor Bonds. This would amount to three five-hundredths of the whole amount and would require about $18,000 to be raised in taxation to meet the interest and retire the bonds. In addition Burbank would have to vote bonds amounting to $450,000 for a pipe line to the San Fernando reservoir and a distributing system in the city, which would require a tax of $21,000 per year for interest and retirement of the bonds. Then Burbank would have to pay one cent per inch per hour for all water. After all these taxes were levied, the revenue from the sale of water to consumers would go into the city treasury of Los Angeles, and not to pay off our water bonds.

The next proposition to be investigated was an unaffiliated supply of gravity water north of San Fernando, which would involve the laying of a pipe line and the enlarging of the present distributing system. The cost of this plan was estimated at about $300,000 and would have provided about 141 miners' inches of water, and if the water consumption were up to the maximum, it was found this plan would be self supporting.

The third plan was to put in an entirely new pumping plant sufficient to produce a maximum of 200 inches of water and to repair the present plant and keep it in reserve for emergencies. The necessary outlay was found to be about $71,000. In addition to this initial cost would be the expense of pumping.

In the last two plans the revenue from the sale of water to the consumer would come to the city of Burbank and could be used to pay off the bonds it would be necessary to issue.

Mr. Kline then called on F. Curt Miller, City Engineer, to give the results of his work in figuring out the cost per inch for water under each of the proposed systems. In his work Mr. Miller had the assistance of a specialist in water works engineering problems. The engineer was at one time connected with the Los Angeles Aqueduct and his figures on water from that source cannot be questioned.

The cost per inch for supplying 145 inches of water, the estimated capacity of the proposed pipe line to the Brand water property, was found to be as follows:

Under Los Angeles Aqueduct, 4.38c.
Under Brand gravity system, 1.7c.
Under proposed pumping system, 1.5c.

Figuring on the basis of pumping only one-fourth of the time, which is about the average for city pumping plants, the comparative costs are as follows:

Los Angeles Aqueduct, 14.5c per inch.

Brand Gravity System, 6.8 per inch.

Burbank pumping, 2.25c per inch. After some discussion, in which it was evident that the sentiment was

The Caliper of True Tire Value

Mere looking at a tire in a dealer's store—weighing it in ounces—measuring it in inches—tells you nothing of what it will do when it gets on your car.

But apply the Goodrich Caliper of True Tire Value to it, and you at once gauge its service value.

Measure its price with the Goodrich List Price, and the adjustment mileage back of it with the More-Mileage Adjustment of Goodrich Tires—6,000 miles for Fabrics; 8,000 for Silvertown Cords.

If its price measures more than the List Price, the tire asks you to pay for something it cannot deliver.

If its adjustment mileage measures less in miles than the Goodrich More-Mileage Adjustment, it deprives you of mileage your money entitles you to get.

Measure any tire with the Goodrich Caliper, and you realize why the word is running like wild fire throughout the motoring world, "Goodrich has THE Tires."

Goodrich is making the burliest, best tires the rubber industry has produced. Compare them and be convinced.
